NATO Solidarity for the Baltic Region

Ramstein-Miesenbach, Germany, 27 March 2009 – During the Baltic Air Sovereignty Training Event II (BAST-E) on 7 April 2009, NATO air forces are going to conduct a fly-by over the Estonian Capital of Tallinn during morning hours weather permitting.

Additional aerial demonstrations, planned for the Capitals of Lithuania and Latvia – Vilnius and Riga, are currently being coordinated.

With these fly-bys, NATO wants to give a visible sign of a reaffirmed commitment and ongoing solidarity to the three Baltic States. The one-day training event BAST-E II is focused on enhancing air interoperability and development of NATO air forces' capabilities.

Please check this website for any current changes relating to the planned aerial demonstrations.
